

BAYLINER® GUIDE

to boat buying

2023

A couple is sitting on a sandy beach, looking out at the ocean under a clear blue sky. The man is on the left, wearing a red shirt, and the woman is on the right, wearing a yellow top. They are sitting on a blue towel. The ocean is a deep blue, and the sky is a lighter blue. There are some green plants in the foreground.

BEFORE YOU BOAT

Owning a boat is a dream for many, but we think it can be reality for more.

At Bayliner, we're determined to help a newly initiated generation of boaters discover their life's passion on the water.

Even if you're an experienced boater, we can help simplify the buying experience so you can realize your dreams and unlock the full potential of ownership from day one.

In this guide, you'll get plain and simple advice on how to purchase a boat that fits your needs as well as your wants.

(Because you can have both, and we're here to help put it all within reach.)

Now, let's begin—

Basic boat-speak

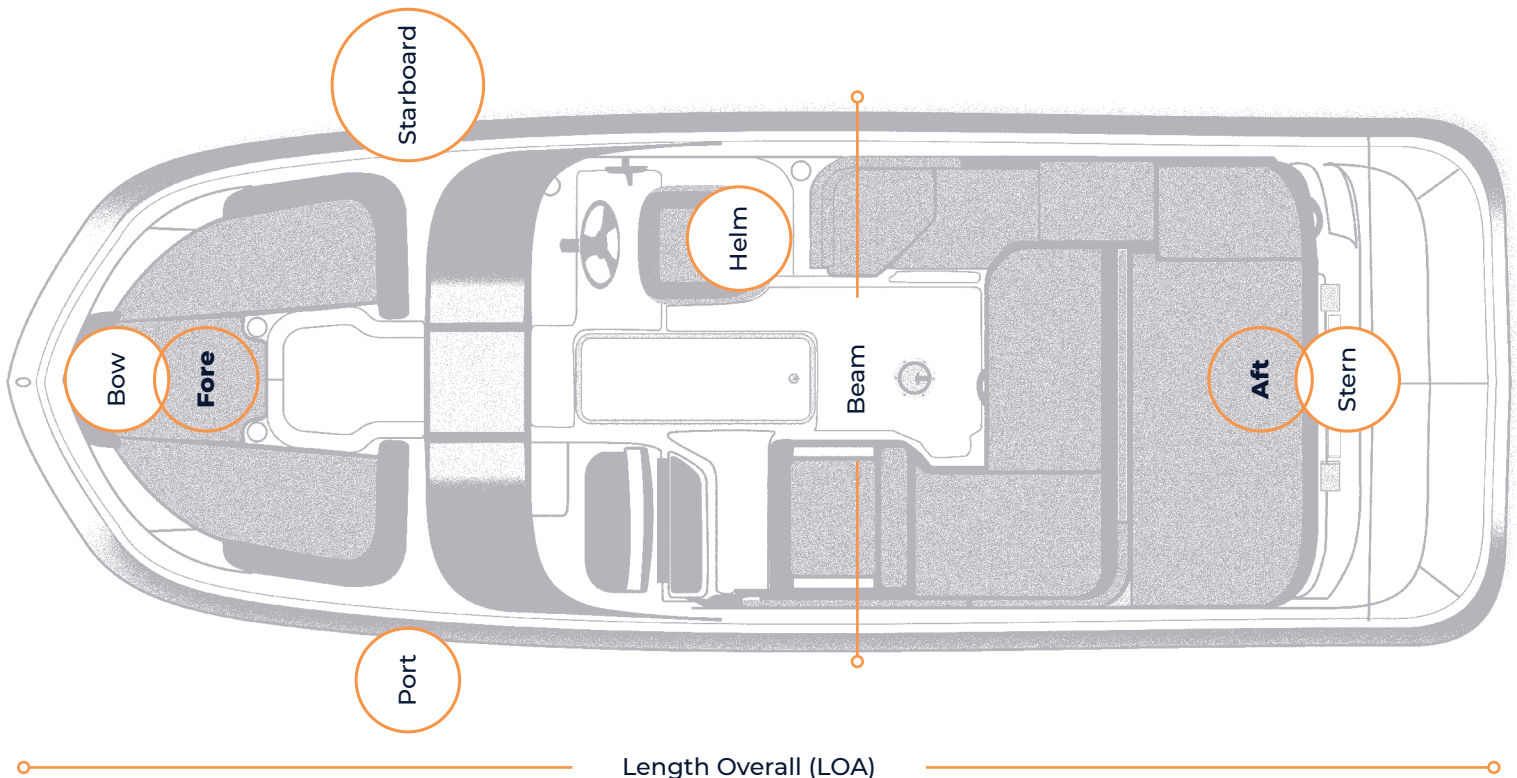

You can skip this if you're familiar, but we think this is a good primer for anyone new to boating.

Learning these terms is helpful once you start your purchasing journey, but it's OK if speaking this way doesn't come naturally. You'll pick up on the most-used terms and phrases as you discover your interests and community.

PSST

We'll elaborate on the different boat styles later in this guide.

Hull	The boat's outer body and running surface
Deck	The horizontal surface of the boat on which the crew or passengers can sit or stand
Helm	Where the captain steers the boat
Bow	The front of the boat
Stern	The back of the boat
Fore	At or toward the bow
Aft	At or toward the stern
Port	Your left when you're in the boat, facing forward
Starboard	Your right when you're in the boat, facing forward
Beam	The measure of the span of the widest part of the boat from port to starboard
LOA	Length Overall (LOA) is the measure of the span of the longest part of the boat from bow to stern

Our Specialties

These terms are a little more specialized, and some are unique to Bayliner.

PSST

An authorized dealer will be able to help you decide which option is best for you based on where you'll boat and how you'll care for it.

BAYLINER

Helpful terms when comparing boat models & determining your needs

AftAdvantage™

An original design feature for maximizing usable space in the stern.

BeamForward™

An original design feature where width is carried toward the bow of the boat to create more space and seating capacity.

Deck Boat

Generally, a deck boat has a wide bow for more deck space and maximum seating.

Bowrider

Sometimes called a runabout, bowriders are generally “pointy” at the front and handle choppy water more smoothly than deck boats.

Center Console

While folks choose center-console models for all kinds of reasons, it's one of the best boat types for fishing.

Sterndrive

Sterndrives are recommended for lake boating and watersports, or if you plan to use the boat to raft up with others in coves.

Outboard

Outboards are preferred for saltwater because they're easier to service; the design lets vital engine components sit out of the water.

Basic activities

And finally, these are some of the most common boating activities you'll hear discussed in this guide and beyond. You might already know which ones you're into, or you might not. Figuring it out is part of the journey!

Cruising

Cruising is perhaps the most popular and easy-to-pursue boating activity. You'll want a boat with good fuel capacity and cushy interior upholstery to support leisurely outings where you can either drop anchor for a swim or go full throttle.

Fishing

Fishing requires patience and enthusiasm. If you're looking to take up angling, look for a boat with a center-console cockpit layout and rugged, low-maintenance interiors that let you "hose and go" at a moment's notice.

Watersports

The most common watersports you will see in any given outing are skiing and tubing. For those activities, you'll want a boat with extra horsepower for towing and storage for gear.

BEFORE YOU BUY

What should you expect when you're expecting a boat?

Before you take the helm of your own boat, it's important to know what kind of boater you'll be. How do you see boat ownership fitting into your life? What types of adventures will owning a boat allow you to have?

Visualizing your expectations and requirements before contacting a dealer can save you time and make you happier in the long run.

First ask yourself

1) How would you describe your current life stage?

- a. Just starting out, not wasting any time
- b. Establishing myself and family, loving every minute
- c. Proud of how far I've come, ready to live the dream

2) How would you hope to afford your boat purchase?

- a. I need flexible financing and low monthly payments
- b. I've budgeted for an aggressive payment schedule
- c. I'm ready to buy now with cash or credit

3) What are your family's comfort and storage needs?

- a. Room for a few people and some essential rec gear
- b. Space to stow boards, lines, skis, tubes, or to entertain friends
- c. Space for relaxation with storage for our rods and tackle

4) What type of excursions are you looking to have?

- a. Spontaneous afternoons on the water, just because
- b. Full-day outings with lots of friends taking turns driving or riding behind the boat
- c. Long escapes to get away from it all or pursue the day's catch

5) What's your vehicle situation?

- a. Van or Crossover Wagon
- b. Midsize or Large SUV
- c. Truck

Then ask your dealer

1) What comes with my boat?

PSST

Most Bayliner models come as a whole package comprising the boat, trailer and engine. Confirm what comes with your model of interest.

2) Is my boat budget in line with my needs? How much should I prepare to spend on gear and maintenance, and what are my financing options?

3) What are the different propulsion options available?

PSST

Bayliner partners with Mercury® Marine to provide our owners with award-winning reliability and support around the world.

4) How should I store my boat and what will I need for maintenance?

5) Is there a warranty plan available?

PSST

*All Bayliner models come standard with our BSURE Lifetime Warranty.

Level-setting your preferences and plans is just the beginning. Once you've figured it all out, your dealer is an expert in all things boat-related for your area.
